Victor Girard, executive director of Palsades Builders, has announced the sale of 250 lots in Torrance to Lou Lesser Enterprises. Land and improvements will total approximately $2,500,000 it was reported.

Girard stated that the extensive industrial activity in Torrance has created need for popular-priced homes in that area.

The property, adjoining the new Torrance grade school, is approximately three blocks north of Highway 101 and southwest of Torrance.

Many of the lots will maintain permanent ocean views and the contemplated 250 homes will be of contemporary ranch styling with emphasis on the use of glass and gracious interiors. The homes will be in the popular-priced class with attractively low down payments, its was announced.

One out of every eight songs heard today on radio and TV or recorded has been written or copyrighted by Irving Berlin, the Dean of American Music.

MASTER-SERGEANT WILSON ADOPTS GIRL WAR ORPHAN

M/Sgt. Artis Wilson Jr., whose parents live at 1467 E. Carson st., Torrance, hopes to bring a new daughter home when he comes to the U. S. from Germany on rotation soon.

Master Sergeant Wilson, a unit administrator with the 25th Infantry Division's 110th Regiment, is having adoption proceedings completed for the three-year-old orphaned German girl he met through a German doctor a year ago.

Gisela has known Wilson as "Daddy" as long as she has been able to pronounce the name. Each evening after duty hours he calls for her and they have dinner together at the Army mess hall.

The child is being cared for by a German family now, but when she arrives in the U. S. she will have two brothers and a sister waiting for her with their mother, who lives at 1223 Third ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

Master Sergeant Wilson has been in Germany since July 1952 when he was transferred from Fort Lewis, Wash.

He is a graduate of Metropolitan High School and was a buffer with Pelton Motors before entering the Army in August 1940.

PROTESTS ALIMONY, PICKETS

Mr. Jones is a man who believes in the power and effectiveness of individual initiative.

He put his belief into action when he protested against high alimony. The matter was purely a matter of principle with Jones since he had no axe to grind personally.

Jones, who was upset about the $9,350 a month temporary alimony being sought by John Wayne's estranged wife, Esperanza, picketed the trial in front of the Hall of Records with a sign reading:

Some use B-Girls.
Some use Gambling Devices.
Some use Guns.
